Let's Start!

Pictures tell us about our past! Are there old family photographs in your house?

Learning Outcome

Exchange basic personal information.

Ask your partner:

- Do you have an old family picture in your house?
- Which unusual or old family pictures do you have in your house?

Can Do Statements

- I can exchange basic information in the past using he was.
- I can say and ask who people were.
- I can talk about countries and nationalities.

Let's Explore!

Brad has a picture of his great-grandparents. They were born in Romania!

* Prepositions can be used to talk about a place.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Brad: Hi, Mandy. I found an unusual picture of my great-grandparents! Look!
- Mandy: Neat! Were they at a picnic? It's a funny picture!
- Brad: Yes, they were at a picnic at the circus. It was in the summer. They were circus performers! He was a lion-tamer and she was a magician. They were quite a couple!
- Mandy: Wow. Now I think my great-grandparents were very average! Where were they from?
- Brad: My great-grandfather was German. He was from Germany. My great-grandmother was born in Romania. She was the first young person to come to the US from her village, in the winter of 1920.

Let's Practice!

They were quite a couple! Let's find out about them.
